Liability Notice and Cancellation Policy

1. If, after registration, the services included in the tour description cannot be supplied, or there are changes in the itinerary for reasons beyond control of Lifelong Learning Tours, the expense will be payable by tour participants. This includes charges such as increased airline security fees and gasoline surcharges.
2. Registrants release Saint Anselm College and Lifelong Learning Tours, LLC from any and all claims for loss or damage to baggage or property, or personal injuries or death, or from loss from delay, arising out of acts, omissions or negligence of any independent contractors, such as air carriers, hotels, tour operators, transportation providers or other providers of services or facilities. Lifelong Learning Tours, LLC disclaims all liability for damages for emotional duress, mental suffering, or psychological injury of any kind, under any circumstances except to the extent such disclaimer is prohibited.
3. Any disability requiring special attention should be reported to Dr. Meg Carson at the time the reservation is made. Lifelong Learning Tours will make reasonable attempts to accommodate the special needs of disabled tour participants, but is not responsible in the event it is unable to do so, nor is it responsible for any denial of services by carriers, hotels, restaurants, or other independent suppliers.
4. Lifelong Learning Tours cannot guarantee freedom from all risks associated with war, terrorism, crime or other potential sources of harm. The United States Department of State and other similar government agencies regularly issue advisories and warnings to travelers giving details of local conditions in specified cities and countries according to such agency's perception of risks to travelers. It is the responsibility of the individual tour participant to obtain and consider such information when making travel decisions.
